1. The criminal police organization in Germany is based on the criminal branch office (Kriminalkassenstelle - KAS) as its lowest unit. These are under criminal service offices (Kriminaldienststellen - KD), which are in turn subordinate to Criminal Offices (Kriminalämter - KA). All these units are directed by the Land Office (Landeskriminalamt - LKA). There are 46 KASes, 25 KDs, 5 KAs and one LKA in Land Saxony.
2. The LKA is divided into eight administrative departments (Bezirksämter):

K4 - General
 K1 - Capital crimes
 K2 - Theft
 K3 - Economic offenses
 K4 - Moral offenses
 K5 - Other offenses
 K6 - Juvenile delinquency
 K7 - Criminal identification and tracing

3. The LKA is supervised by a Zone Criminal Office (Zonen-Kriminalamt - ZKA), also divided into eight sections called Referate, corresponding to those of the LKA. Referat K7 of the ZKA has the following subdivisions:

K7-a - Central files
 K7-b - Tracing center
 K7-c - Finger-printing center
 K7-d - Personal identification center
 K7-e - Center for unidentified dead and missing persons
 K7-f - Photographic file center
 K7-g - Handwriting analysis center

4. Also affiliated to the ZKA is a Criminal Technical Institute (Kriminal-technisches Institut), which is concerned with identification of forged documents, and chemical and biological crime analysis.
